Myra Perrin demonstrates Copper Metalwork

Myra Perrin presented very comprehensive explanations of her copper work techniques. She answered many questions and showed many examples of her work.

Due to space restrictions and not having everyone's headshot, only pictures of the work will be featured this month.

Cindy Cwi brought in a fluted vessel she is working on from her class at the Marc Adams school and two small lidded boxes with copper lids.

Curt Rush showed us his segmented table leg. I initially thought it was a sculpture. Nice job.

Tom Meeker brought in two natural edge bowls. One being Bradford pear and the other was cherry.

Jim Sheehan showed off his skills with his carved wine bottle and baseball mitt. Impressive.

John Harris made a natural edge bowl. Unfortunately I was not able to get the type of wood.

Lee Ellis brought in a one piece natural edge bowl with a thinly turned base. Unfortunately I did not get the species of this wood either.

Jim Dupler brought in a large Kentucky coffee tree salad bowl with utensils and a large box elder bowl with mineral inlay and walnut stitches.

Rich Parker showed off a couple of nice cherry bowls. One featuring pyrography.

Tim Kennedy brought in turned sculpture with pyrography.

Be sure to bring in your next project to share with the group. We would love to see it.

Dick Gerrard brought in an assortment of turned spheres with embedded acrylic.
